

Liu Zheng: The Chinese

Since 1994, Chinese artist Liu Zheng has been working on his ambitious photographic project The Chinese. Inspired by the examples of August Sander and Dianne Arbus, he has captured a people and a country in a unique time of great flux. Liu seeks out moments in which archetypal Chinese characters are encountered in extreme and unexpected situations. His photographs are divided among a number of topics which betray a dark vision, albeit one that is laced with humor and compassion.

From Liu Zheng: The Chinese

Published by the International Center of Photography and Steidl, 2004

EXHIBITION INFORMATION

Number of photographs: 55
Frame sizes: 22x24 and 26x28
Rental fee: $7,800 for 8 weeks

Additional weeks may be booked for an extra 10% per week.